

Cod fest

on Aquavitesse

They took some time arriving on the wrecks this year, but when they arrived the numbers have been better this year, than for many years.

The skippers believe this is due entirely to the restraints put on commercial fishing, especially in the North Sea, which has benefited the overall population of Cod and also our sport. Most have been in the 4 – 8 lb size with some bigger ones up to 16 lbs, but on Aquavitesse we also believe in conservation and have been careful not to over fish any of the wrecks.

CHRIS GOLDING

As many of you know Chris will from now on be skippering Aquavitesse at weekends, with Noel skippering during the week. Fishing for Chris is not only work and a hobby but a passion. Chris is always happy to talk on anything concerned with sea fishing and is very keen to help our customers improve their fishing technique and enjoyment of our sport.

AVAILABILITY CHART

Please remember to look at our availability chart for when we have spaces on our Mix and Match days, and also special days such as Father and Son, and Ladies days.

SEASICKNESS

When our customers suffer from seasickness it is no laughing matter, it is hell for them, and generally it is hard for us to help, so we thought we would give some advice on how to avoid it.

First of all, no alcohol for 24 hours before the trip, or if you are particularly vulnerable to seasickness then 48 hours before.

The night before, take a seasickness tablet, and one in the morning when you wake up. They all seem to work equally as well.

Also, when you wake up on the day, drink a glass of ginger beer or some drink with ginger in it.

Wear wrist bands that put pressure on the pressure points inside your wrists.

When on the boat and if you feel unwell, keep out of the cabin and toilet. Make sure you have fresh air and keep looking at the horizon and keep warm.

Two of our customers who were always sick, tried the above and have not been sick on Aquavitesse since. Good Luck.

Availability

Maps: Select

Legend: ■ = Available ■ = Some spaces left ■ = Fully Booked

August 2008

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
27	28	29	30	31	1 Mix and Match day for Wrecking	2 Wrecking
3 Mix and Match day for Wrecking	4 Adverse Tide	5 Adverse Tide	6 Wrecking	7 Wrecking Ash Scattering 1700	8 Wrecking	9 Mix and Match day for Wrecking
10 Wrecking Bass	11 Mix and Match day for Wrecking	12 Wrecking	13 Mix and Match day for Wrecking (3 spaces left)	14 Wrecking	15 Father and Son Day	16 Wrecking
17 Wrecking	18 Wrecking	19	20 Bassing	21 BASS Fishing	22 Wrecking	23 Wrecking
24 Mix and Match day for Wrecking	25 Night Fishing, start 1800	26 Father and Son Day (8 spaces left)	27 Wrecking	28 Ladies Day	29 Mix and Match day for Wrecking (5 spaces left)	30 Wrecking

PRICING

Unfortunately we are suffering upward pressure on fuel prices and on the 1st November the duty and VAT on red diesel is changing, this will mean our prices will be increasing for 2009. As soon as we know the exact prices we will let you know.

LATEST CATCHES

The Bass season is now well under way, with Black Sea Bream also showing on the wrecks, surprisingly on the drift as well as when anchored.

MASTERLINE

We still continue to enjoy a good relationship with our sponsor, Masterline, who are now owned by Jarvis Walker, a well known Australian manufacturing company. We are looking forward to trying out their new rods and reels and some lures which are new to the UK.

So which one is the Smoothhound?

07766 661066. e-mail – noelwest@beaufortcharters.co.uk www.aquavitesse.co.uk

Beaufort Charters Limited, Old Cottage, The Street, Piddinghoe, East Sussex, BN9 9AN